NEWS OF THE MORNING.

The telegraph on Saturday morning brought us the news of the destruction of Lawrence Kansas. We have nothing of the particulars as yet however, as we had no evening report on Saturday up to the time of going to press, and we therefore forbear comments till we hear further, but it is enough to make the blood boil in the veins of any but a hardened Hunker to read of such outrages as are daily being perpetrated upon our brethren in Kansas, for the offence of trying to keep the curse of Slavery from them We await the particulars with anxiety

We have at other of our Foreign Correspondent's very interesting letters, commenced to day, having him among the lotus leaves hunting up the Nile

The Annual Report of the Secretary of the Musical Society finds a place this morning, and we commend it to the attention of our readers

We are glad to be able to record the fact that liberal supplies of breadstuffs are about to go from New York to the Cape de Verde sufferers

President Pierce's Veto Message of the St Clair flats bill is noticed and commented on

Various interesting items from the interior are given, and our local, marine, and advertising columns are full of noteworthy matter

Mr. Gotfield" Whitewash.

The Argus is ready with its brush again to whitewash the foul outbreak of "Border Ruffianism" at Washington For from condemning Brooks' dastardly assault on Senator SUMNER — an outrage which has kindled everywhere the most intense indignation — the "Border Ruffian organ rather exonerates it and does not justify it No doubt, as in the case of the murder of the poor Irish waiter, last year, by the Congressman Herbert, the Argus confidently anticipates an acquittal for Brooks, however, to make us in part responsible for its own shortcomings We quote from its Saturday's leader

The Sentinel which was sorely vexed on account of Senator Douglas declining to light under Buffum by the name of Col Titus, is equally indignant at the assault made upon Senator SUMNER by Mr Brooks When a Democrat refuses to fight one of the Slaughter Gang, they mount the favorite rostrum of that game bird and crow lustily, but let a Democrat beat one of them and they will all then skulk away and cackle

If the time shall ever come when a man is to be tried upon the evidence of birth or faith without reference to the facts connected with the act itself, then the Sentinel, which defended Mary Ann Wheeler on account of her sex, will be a suitable organ for that crime

As the Sentinel never "defended Ann Wheeler," but repeatedly and strongly denounced her crime and severely censured the Jury which acquitted her, and as we have never expressed, or felt the slightest "sensation" in regard to Douglas' refusal to fight Lane, the excuses which the Argus trumps up to torture even justification, or palliation of the Herbert murder and the Brooks ruffian by assault, are of a piece with most of its knavish news—to wit, pure fabrications

TO BE EXPECTED —Mr Campbell's motion for a Committee to inquire into the particulars of the Retort uttered by Preston Brooks, a member of the House of Representatives, on Mr Sumner, in his seat in the Senate Chamber, was only carried by a vote of 87 to 82, the majority consisting, with the exception of a very few, of Republicans, and the only southern man who's name we find in the list, being Marshall, of Kentucky Those in the negative were Southern men, aided by Allen, Richardson, and Marshall of Illinois, Miller, of Indiana, and Kelly of N Y City, Democrats, of course, of the straitest pattern Among the list of those who voted against the investigation we notice the names of HERBERT, who, with the guilt of the murder of keating, the Irish waiter, on his soul is still at large, BROOKS, of South Carolina, who shuts Preston his attack on Mr Sumner

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER —When the motion was made in the House of Representatives, a fortnight since, for a committee to investigate the circumstances of the murder of the Irishman, Keating, by the Congressman, HERBERT, Mr BROOKS, of South Carolina, voted no In return for this piece of friendly service, when Mr CAMPBELL, on Friday last, submitted a resolution for a committee to inquire into the circumstances of Mr Brooks ruffianly and brutal assault upon Senator SUMNER, Mr Herbert, of California, the murderer of Keating, voted no! Herbert & Brooks are fellow democrats and fellow ruffians They ought both to be expelled forthwith from the House

KANSAS TESTIMONY —It is now known that the reason why Mrs Robinson, the wife of the Governor, left her husband when he was stopped by the Missourians and pushed on eastward, was that she carried with her the official copies of the testimony taken thus far before the Congressional Committee, directed to the Speaker of the House. These papers have already reached their destination safely, and we hear that another part of the testimony passed through Chicago a day before yesterday in the hands of a reliable man

Things have come to a pretty pass when a Committee of Congress is obliged to resort to such means to transmit their official records to Washington, but so it is

NEWS TO MANY —Two hundred and seventy years ago last Wednesday, England was declared a Republic by an act of Parliament passed the 29th of May 1649 That act has never been repealed, but remains upon the statute book of England to this day

REPUBLICAN DELEGATES —The delegates from Mr Bank district in Massachusetts to the Republican National Convention, are Messrs Charles Hudson, of Lexington, T March, of Waltham, and Marcus Morton, Jr, of Andover

FOR LAKE IMPROVEMENT —The Improvement at this place we understand, will be completed so that boats will run through to Green Bay, in about two weeks —Appleton Free Press

Graves and their Treasures—An Anti Resurrection Tomb—The Sphinx and its Worshipers—A Tradition—Preparations for a trip up the Nile—Private Flags—The Queen of Sheba—The Isle of Roda and the Foundling—The Nile and its Character

OSIOUT, Jan 25, 1856

When I left my reader, in my last letter, I was among the pyramids Since that visit I have had taken to old Cairo for two months, and am now shaping my course towards the mountains of the Moon But perhaps it would be best to finish one thing before taking up another, and go back to those marvellous works of man's folly, for I have seen them for the last time

To the south east of the pyramids I visited, the others standing in groups and alone There are also a number to the north Most of them differ from each other, in their size and manner of being built All at some former date have been opened and rifled of their contents, which rarely was found which was valuable There have always been traditions among the people that these tombs contained buried treasures, and the caliphs, many centuries ago opened many of them One writer says that in one of them was found a statute resembling a man, in a Sarcophagus of stone After being assisted over the trench, one of my guests fell on to me while I peered over into the pit There is no protection to either, and I should think accidents would occur in people stepping off when blinded by the sand, or from other causes not observing the pit On the promise of a couple of piasters an Arab descended into both, and appeared no larger than a child when down on the bottom He took a stone and offered to batter off a piece of the Sarcophagus if I desired it, but having seen so much mutilation by curiosity hunters of most all the important objects of antiquity, in which the ravine of all parts of the world have a common interest, I have scrupulously avoided taking any thing of the kind, however unimportant it might now be considered

The Sphinx stands some forty or fifty rods to the southeast of the largest pyramid, and is nothing more than the figure of a Leviathan beast, with a human head, cut out of a rock, with the exception of the fore legs and part of the back — the portion owing to a defect in the large rock, had to be supplied with hewn stone The paws alone are fifty feet in length, resembling those of a lion On a sort of raised pavement, on which they reposed, were found an altar, three tablets and a lion, and some other relics, from which it is inferred that sacrifices were performed in front of this fabled monster, which was worshipped as a God This opinion is strengthened from the fact that a sanctuary stood near the beast, into which the priests entered in making their processions along this sacred area At the one I went to this sanctuary, were two pedestals, in the form of jambs for the purpose of forming a doorway, in the centre of which stood the statue of a crouched lion looking towards the sphinx and the altar table From the relics found, and other similar doorways, it would seem that other statues of lions occupied similar positions around the sphinx On one side of a granite tablet King Thothmes IV is represented as offering incense to the figure of a Sphinx, having a head and other attributes of a God — This king reigned about the time of the death of Moses — say 1450 years before the christian era Rameses the Great is also on the other side making similar offerings This Diety had the title of Isa, meaning the sun in his resting place, and was supposed to "give and power and pure life to the king" Pliny, the historian, observed that this Sphinx had the character of a Deity, and was treated with divine honors by the priests and by strangers who visited the spot

There is found a Greek inscription on one of the paws which no doubt, was placed there many centuries after its erection, for the Greek language was then unknown, which being translated, tends as follows

Why for ever mid us I for the gods have placed
Such great spot of Orcus at beach's hand
And the unsightly work of artificers
Are by it in unison once with sand
And in order by mid ... ...
Brave man and woman fair
All over the land have strayed
As I here will thee all be
As I can as free be made

The echo of their voices had hardly died away before the "monk hand" lifted up the Kansas song

We do not seek to gain
From Border Ruffian hand
The barrels of the war or
Stain Truth's crimson land
We fight to make it free from
Our hallowed soil to be —
To guard the rights of human
From Slavery's blasphemy

After concluding with the Donolore, the meeting adjourned in the best spirits On Wednesday morning the train continued its journey — We are informed of the following burning incident which happened during the day — The young men were trying their revolvers, when Mrs Rose the mother of F G Rose, an old lady in spectacles, passed by One of the young men assailed her at the thought she could hit the mark. The President's Veto Message.

The President, on the 19th instant, returned to the Senate the bill appropriating $1,000 for the improvement of the St Clair Flats with the following veto message

SPECIAL MESSAGE

To the Senate of the United States

I return herewith to the Senate, in which it originated, a bill entitled "an act making an appropriation for deepening the channel over the St Clair flats in the State of Michigan, and submit it for reconsideration, because it appears to me to be inexpedient to make appropriations by the general government which have already been presented by me in previous communications to Congress

In considering this bill under the restriction that the power of Congress to construct a work of internal improvement is limited to cases in which the work is manifestly needful and proper for the execution of some one or more of the powers expressly delegated to the general government, I have not been able to find for the proposed expenditure any such relation unless it be to the power to provide for the common defence and to maintain an army and navy But a careful examination of the subject with the aid of information officially received since my last annual message to Congress, has been convinced me that the expenditure of the sum proposed would serve no valuable purpose in contributing to the common defence because all which could be effected by it would be to afford a channel of twelve feet depth, and of a temporary character that unless the work was done immediately before the necessity for its use should arise, it could not be relied on for the vessels of even the small draught the passage of which it would permit

Under existing circumstances, therefore it can not be considered as a necessary means for the common defence, and is subject to the objections which apply to other works designed to facilitate commerce and contribute to the convenience and local prosperity of those more immediately concerned—an object not to be constitutionally and justly attained by the taxation of the people of the whole country

FRANKLIN PIERCE

Washington May 19, 1856

The message displays the President's profound ignorance of the commerce of our Inland seas as well as his utter indifference to the interests of the North West He talks of a "twelve feet channel across the Flats, to admit the passage of vessels of small draft" only Such a channel would be deep enough for any steamer and sail vessel on the Lakes Their are very few that draw, Light, over ten feet of water

The tenor of the President's objections to the St Clair Flats Bill leaves no doubt that a like veto on our harbor appropriations Although presented in separate bills, and each standing on its own merits, they are all merely "works designed to facilitate commerce," and, if enforce in Mr Pierce's judgment, beyond the pale of the Constitution This is sham Democracy, as it has hitherto been lauded and upon by its chief priest President PIERCE How much longer will the People of the North West consent to be harnessed to this car of Juggernaut

The Proof as to Kansas.

The Albany Evening Journal, in a brief article, reviews the evidence thus far adduced in relation to the outrages in Kansas, committed by the invaders of that territory, by virtue of which Mr Whitfield claims his seat as a Delegate in Congress The following are the points proved, so far

The illegal votes at the Polls of Kansas are proved not only by the evidence of those who stood by, but by the confessions of those who put them in the ballot box

The assaults upon the Judges, and their being driven from their seats with pistol and bowie knife, are proved by the testimony of the Judges themselves and their associates

The existence of a Secret Society in Missouri sworn to establish Slavery in Kansas, even at the cost of violence, is proved by the acknowledgement of its own members

That armed gangs of Missourians set out for Kansas on the day before election is testified to by the Missouri friends and neighbors

That they organized and committed the crimes charged upon them, is proved by those who rode in their wagons, and talked with them in their camps

The official Census which the Committee have taken copies of proves that there were 5,000 bona fide inhabitants in the Territory, when votes cast at the Polls

The Poll lists, which have also been copied, prove that not one quarter of the voters who claim to "have elected the Territorial Legislature," ever slept two successive nights in the Territory

These facts being proved, can any one wonder at the unwillingness of the Free State Settlers to obey a code of enactments, more cruel than those of Draco unwilling, and degrading, made by a Legislature chosen by fraud and violence?

The Kansas Emigrant Train.

The first encampment out of the city was made on the farm of Mr Reynold five miles from town, on the Janesville Plank Road, and for his kindness we are authorized to return the thanks of the members of the train

After arrangement of wagons, election of tents and supper was over, a meeting was called to order Besides the emigrants, there were present two carriage loads from the city and several families of the neighborhood Hon E Prime was called to the Chair, and C T Hotchkiss appointed Secretary After some remarks by the Chairman and Secretary, the regulations adopted by the County Society, for the government of the train, were laid before the meeting and when duly considered were signed by each member A few parting addresses were made on the part of the officers of the Society and members of train, and on motion, a vote of thanks to the Society and all persons who had assisted to start the train, was passed The "Song of Freedom" was then sung in earnest, by men, women and children

A life on the heroic plains
And a home and a country that shall be flowers
Where mind and soul developed shine
And love like flowers may thrive
Brave men and women fair
All over the land have strayed
As I here will thee all be
As I can as free be made

The echo of their voices had hardly died away before the "monk hand" lifted up the Kansas song

ANNUAL REPORT

Of the Secretary of the Milwaukee Musical Society, delivered at Doat's Hall, May 6th 1856

GENTLEMEN — In accordance with a custom heretofore observed, it devolves upon me to say a few words to you upon the affairs of our Society

From the report of the Treasurer just laid before you, you have received a full and complete view of the financial condition of the Society — That, I am sorry to say, is aside from the income derived from the renting of Young's Hall not very flattering The expenses attending the more ordinary rehearsals and concerts have been very large during the past winter, so that they have often surpassed our income, and we have been prevented from running into debt by the receipts from Young's Hall only That certainly, ought not to be the case These large expenses, I think are principally owing to the compensation paid to some members of the orchestra who would not otherwise be able to lend us their, certainly, most valuable services It has been remarked by every member of the society, how wonderful the orchestra has improved within the past season and it is but just to say that the performances of that body deserve what, indeed, they never fail to get, the highest praise and applause It would therefore, I think, not be wise, to cripple the orchestra, we could only seek the problem of making our income and our expenditure meet Perhaps it might be feasible to increase the monthly contributions of the members to five or six dollars, or to give more concerts and operas, in order to secure our financial existence Of this, however, it will be for you to judge

The leasing of Young's Hall was at first contracted to almost every one as an undertaking rather problematical than otherwise, but so far however, both expenses and receipts as well, the last report of the treasurer shows, but I do not think that we have yet occasion to complain but can give upon the result of that lease, during the summer season now before us, the demands for the hall will probably be much diminished At all events, the income from the Hall ought never to be looked upon as being absolutely needed to pay our current expenses

Upon the resignation of Dr Munk as librarian, the Board of Directors, a few weeks ago, appointed Dr Darege as his successor who had the kindness to take upon himself the onerous duties of that office, to be towed and for the neglected duties Mr Darege has furnished me with a complete list of all the musical property under his control belonging to the Society It is too long to be embodied in this report, but shows that the Society possesses at present

Operas and oratorios,	7 pieces
Symphonies for orchestra,	9 "
Overtures for orchestra,	34 "
Various other pieces for orchestra	15 "
Choruses for male and female voices with accompaniment of orchestra	21 "
Songs, trios, duettoes &c, with accompaniment of orchestra,	12 "
Quintettes and choruses for male voices with and without accompaniment of orchestra,	13 "
Pieces for the piano,	11 "
Mixed instrumental music,	7 "
Mixed vocal music,	7 "
Musical instruments,	29 "

The time having been very short since his appointment, it has not been possible for Mr Darege to ascertain the value of the various articles He certainly deserves the greatest thanks at our hands for so industriously undertaking so dull and thankless a task, which, until now, had been abandoned by every one who took the office before him

Among the property of the Society, I desire to call your attention particularly to the music of two operas not yet performed by the Society namely, "the Daughter of the Regiment and Don Giovanni," the performances of which will give new interest to our Society

The first mentioned has also turned out, and as I believe you, has an end report In connection with this, the only remark that I deem it necessary to make is that since the renting of the store below the hall by Mr Young, for a term of years, for which you are insured on our property in the hall by him cancelled, and the premium paid back to the Society A however the representations that that store was full of cotton bales was not to be founded on truth we shall probably find no difficulty in again insuring the property

Of the musical productions of our Society in general nothing I will not speak I have met the Public to do this justice You all know what excellent entertainments in concerts and operas we have had in the past year, you all fully appreciate the unwearying efforts of our active members and particularly those of our musical director you all know to what extent these efforts have been crowned with success, and you all feel how deeply we are indebted to every one of the active members I will therefore only mention that besides the regular monthly concerts (except in the months of July and August) there have been given by the society the following operas during the past year

Freischutz,	May 29th
"Norma,"	Oct 4th
Freischutz	Nov 22nd
"Stradella," in March last, besides the operas

Czar and Zimmerman" and "Stradella" performed for the benefit of Mr Balatka

Resolutions of the Corn Exchange.

At a meeting of the members of the Milwaukee Corn Exchange on the 23rd instant, the following resolutions which buyers and shippers of grain the interior will do well to notice, were passed

WHEREAS, The reputation of our club wheat in all the eastern cities for home use or exportation, when well cleaned and properly prepared for market, has a source of pride and interest to farmers and grain dealers, and whereas we have been pained to notice of late, that farmers are neglecting this important part of wheat raising which if continued will serve to depreciate the standing of Wisconsin wheat, and thus materially damage the grain growing interests of the whole State And whereas the dishonorable and deceptive practice of mixing poor wheat with good wheat by putting the bad at the bottom and the good at the tops of bags, is highly reprehensible and deserves the disapproval of every honest merchant and farmer, therefore be it

Resolved That hereafter the members of the Corn Exchang, will mark their difference in the price of clean and unclean wheat which real exercise and the demands of the Eastern market and the reputation of Wisconsin wheat requires

Resolved That we will, as buyers and sellers of wheat, insist that the benefits of clean wheat and the loss of unclean wheat, shall fall where they properly belong, upon the producer

Resolved, That we pledge ourselves individually and collectively to exhibit to labor for the reforms contemplated in these resolutions, by always encouraging honest dealers by high prices and discouraging the reverse with the proper questions

CONSIDERATE —Mr John Lockwood, the Great Mogul of the know Nothing order in this State, having given $10 to the Kansas Aid Society, sends to the Free man the following note which accompanied the donation, and which the Committee failed to make public

MILWAUKEE, May 20, 1856.

G T Hotchkiss, Esq Secretary of the Milwaukee County Kansas Aid Society —

DEAR SIR —I have accept the within Ten Dollars for the use of the above Society, provided that the same shall not be used in the purchase of Sharps Rifles or ammunition for the purpose of shooting down American citizens but that the same shall be applied for the dissemination of true American principles and for the extension and perpetuity of our great and glorious Union

Respectfully yours,
JOHN LOCKWOOD

Doubtless the Mogul expects that Know Nothings and Locos are to be stirred with the money

THE BIBLE FURNISHED FROM THE SOUTH — A correspondent of the New York Commercial, writing from Cairo, under date of the 12th instant, says

Many emigrants from Kansas have lately passed here both from free and slave states The Georgia and Alabama company may have been chiefly composed of decent people, but all who came under here conducted themselves in a very rowdyish manner, getting drunk on Sunday and brandishing their weapons very foolishly Our inhabitants came very near pitching into them

These are some of the party, who, it was ostentatiously announced, went to Kansas armed only with Bibles!

CHANGE OF GRADE —Our Rail Road Co are making fine progress in changing the grade between the junction and this city We understand it is already changed to some distance this side of Chester We shall soon have the cars running through to and from Milwaukee direct —Fond du Lac Union

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, May 19, 1856

Mr Marcoleta pursues a good deal disturbed by the reception of Father Vigil, who expects as a corresponding attention of him In regard to Father Vigil, your correspondent chastises him severely with his own, while he was the first to manifest him from any imputations to which the announcement might give occasion It was promptly declared that, though now a priest and a celibate according to the rules of the church the worthy padre had once been an advocate at law, and that the young man might be presumed to be the offspring of the lawyer and not of the celibate priest I shall still further prove my regard for the respected father and the clergy generally by publishing the following epigrammatic dialogue, supposed to have occurred between some cavilling infidel and himself on the question of paternity

Cool replies for short questions
Thought rather quick
Hot rejoinder
Mystified but not lost

The last of the splendid Banks reception took place on Thursday night It was the most brilliant party of the season, and largely attended by members of Congress and the diplomatic corps — Among the notables were Mr Douglas, Mr Cobb, of Georgia, Gen Robles, the new Mexican Minister Messrs Grinnell, and Mr Bernhisel the venerable Mormon M C, to whom Mud of Iowa or Murray devotes so much attention in his book of travels — Cor N Y Post

MAY DAY —Hon C K Watson, of Ohio, has brought an instalment of the scandal testimony taken by the Commission of Investigation The pudgy agent said to have been brought by the wife of Gov Robinson and delivered by that lady to Gov Clark of Ohio The state of things in Kansas is so bad that the majority of the Commission anticipated an attempt to destroy the testimony they had taken, and adopted this measure of precaution, and adopted this measure of precaution, and adopted this measure of precaution

The labors of the Commission are rapidly hastening to completion Their report is now expected in time for the resumption of business after the adjournments in June

The Associated Press understood to develop a state of things worse by far than the most extreme men on the Free State side have charged This proves that nine tenths of the votes returned for Whitfield were spurious and illegal If he have the hardihood to resume his seat in the face of this evidence, it may be reasonably expected that he will be promptly voted out of it

General Goubeau has arrived in the United States If he has not brought with him the treaty he is supposed to have made for another strip of Mexican territory, he will explain how the statement that one had been negotiated escaped from his embassy From this source it certainly proceeded

The peroration of Mr Sumner's speech is very fine, In a desperate hand to hand skirmish with Senators Douglas and Mason, he bore off by universal admission, all the honors — Cor N Y Courier and Enq

AID FOR THE CAPE DE VERDE ISLANDS —The Committee appointed at the Corn Exchange meeting of the 8th inst, to solicit aid for the Cape de Verde Islands, met yesterday at 8 P M, at the Exchange It was announced the sum of had already been contributed in money and provisions, and that two sail loaded with grain and provisions would be dispatched to the islands early in June A letter was read stating that ten hundred bushels of wheat and corn had been shipped to the committee in aid of this charity, from Alexandria, Va Notice was given that contributions of money and provisions for shipment to these unhappy islanders could be consigned to Thomas Perry, Esq —N Y Times, 21st

LAKE SUPERIOR WATER CURE —We are glad to learn that the excellent institution will be reopened on Wednesday next, under the medical charge of Dr Kittredge of Boston Dr K has lately returned from a tour in Europe, where he has been spending some time in visiting the different Hydropathic Institutions of the world — The proprietors have been fortunate in securing the services of Dr Kittredge, who will no doubt make good the place made vacant by the recent death of Dr Trall

This institution has been put in the most complete condition, and every improvement for the convenience & comfort of the patrons, has been put into requisition Under its present organization, we don't see why it will not be one of the first resorts for those desiring the improvement of health, that can be found in the country For location and summer lake scenery, it has no superior and in its management no pains or expense will be spared to make it equal to the best We trust the coming season will be one of profit both to the patrons and proprietors — Mattoon Journal

STEALING CHINA.—Rachel Brise, who was arrested the day previous by the Chief of Police, for stealing a China cigar vase, and China saucer from Blair & Person's store, on East Water street, was brought down from jail, and after an examination was committed for trial, and in default of $250 bail, was taken back to jail.

In reply to a question of the Court, the Chief of Police stated three other articles were found upon her, at the time he arrested her, and for which, owners had been found. They had been stolen in either shops or dwelling houses.

The woman, when detected by Mr. Blair, was accompanied by another woman, who had been caught stealing, and let go on a former occasion. The woman Brise, has an infant nine weeks old, but not with her in jail.

Reported for the Daily Sentinel.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION AGAINST THE GAS CO.—George Dyer vs. the Milwaukee Gas Light Co. Action on the case, C. K Watkins, for Plaintiff; H. M. Finch, for Defendant—before Albert Smith, Esq., Justice of the Peace.

This was an action brought by the plaintiff against the Milwaukee Gas Light Co. to recover damages laid at $50,00, alleged to have been sustained by the plaintiff, from the defendant's having refused to furnish the plaintiff's dwelling house with gas after three requests or notices to the Gas Co. by the plaintiff, on the 26th, 27th and 28th of April, the house of the plaintiff being supplied with gas pipes, fixtures, &c. This was the plaintiff's declaration, and to which the defendant put in a general demurrer: plaintiff joined in the demurrer. On this state of pleadings, after two adjournments, the case was decided by the Justice; no proof being introduced, the Court, under the general demurrer, received the allegation in the plaintiff's pleadings as admitted, and gave judgment for 6 cents (nominal) and costs of suit.

The Justice, in giving this decision, remarked substantially as follows: The question presented by the demurrer was, whether the defendant (the Gas Co.) was bound to furnish gas, on notice, to the citizens of this city; and whether, under such circumstances the Company might wilfully or capriciously refuse?

The act creating the Corporation, gave to the "Milwaukee Gas Light Co." the exclusive right, to manufacture and furnish gas in the City of Milwaukee, to be used among other places, in dwelling houses, perpetually. It is a private corporation, but its use must materially affect the public, and if it had the power claimed for it by the defendant, instead of its being a public blessing it would be a public calamity! It might cut its pleasure determine, of its own perpetual will, when it would and when it would not furnish with gas, to exclusion of all others, then indeed it was armed with a power to do wrong, of a most mischievous character!

It was no answer to say that such power would never be injuriously exercised, the case had already arisen as was admitted by the demurrer. He (the Justice) did not believe that the Gas Co. possessed any such omnipotent power of discrimination between the people of this city; he believed they could not, of themselves, say to whom they would furnish gas, (all other things being equal) but he believed they were bound to furnish all alike. That the "Milwaukee Gas Light Co." stood in the same relation to the public as Railroad or Steamboat Companies, or Corporations, and that unless they could furnish some better excuse for not having furnished gas to any citizen of this city than their mere "ala volo," they would become liable in an action on the case for damages. The demurrer would be overruled and judgment entered for six cents damages and the costs of the suit.

(We understand that the above case will be carried direct to the Supreme Court on a common law writ of error. It contains a principle of the greatest importance to our citizens, and we shall await the final decision in the Supreme Court with no anxiety as to its nature—believing that no power so despotic will be sustained, whose tendency or claim is that A may burn gas in his dwelling house, but that B never shall; we, the Gas Co. having the exclusive right to manufacture, have also the perpetual Power to prohibit. If such is the case we go in for BENZOLE.] REPORTER.

Notices of New Books.

VAGABOND LIFE IN MEXICO; GABRIEL FERRY; Harper & Brothers, Publishers, N. Y.

We have, from Wilson, a copy of this new publication, and have taken an early opportunity to glance through its pages. Without having time or space for a lengthy review, we can say, briefly, that we think it a very interesting work, presenting a better picture of every day life in Mexico than any book that we know of, and we think a more careful perusal of it must confirm our first impressions.

This work is prepared by a professor in the New York University, and claims some considerable advantages over the books in common use. We commend it to the critical scrutiny of teachers. Same publishers. Wilson basit for sale.

CICERO'S ORATIONS; translated by C. D. YONGE; Harper & Bros Classical Library.

We have also from Wilson this handsome edition of the orations of the eloquent Roman, which have formed for ages the model of forensic debaters. His speeches against Catiline, and his "Philippics" are contained in this volume, with others. Classical scholars, who have appreciated Cicero in his own noble language, will scarcely, we think, be satisfied with this translation, as it does not impart to the feeling that you have a great orator before you. Nor rather a weak one, as he aim at preventing his ideas to the common mind in the simplest language; but those who wish to know what subjects employed the rounded periods and the tremendous invective of Cicero, will be glad to own this book.

SAILING IN BALLAST.—The following neat little thing reaches us through the Post Office:

C—— said the other day to me,
(C—— by the way affects esprit,)
"Just notice Y—— sail down the street."
And I, who'n never chanced to meet
Before a form so stout and short,
Laughing replied, "I'm sure a sort
Of poet's license you're availing
Yourself of, calling that gait 'sailing.'"
"Ah well!" said he, undauntedly,
"All kinds of ships sail on the sea;
And though yon craft is none the tallest,
You'll own there is no lack of ballast." T.

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDINGS.—The Contractor for the new Custom House, Post Office and U. S. Court Buildings, intends, we learn, to commence work to-day.—The building, as first planned, did not cover the whole lot, but its extension will take up all the space. This involves the necessity of removing the Engine House of Number One, which is on the South West corner of the lot. The city, however, has 33 feet unoccupied on the same lot where the Hose and Hook and Ladder houses are, on Main street; and this would be an excellent locality for Number One. No time should be lost in removing their Engine House to the new site.

SHEET IRON, TIN AND HARDWARE.—Messrs. MEADE & SON, who have just opened a new Sheet Iron, Tin and Hardware store on West Water street, North of Spring, have an excellent stock on hand, and skillful workmen to do all Jobs entrusted to them. See their card in our advertising columns.

PARODI & STRAKOSCH.—That favorite trio, PARODI, PATTI and STRAKOSCH, who have on sundry occasions delighted our music loving public, are again on their way West and will give a Concert in Chicago early this week. We shall hope to see and hear them in Milwaukee, where they are always sure of a warm welcome, in the course of a few days.

THE MURDER OF HERMAN C. ADAMS THE BANKER.—The second trial of Johan Feiner, charged with the murder of Herman C. Adams, the Banker in October, 1855, is set down for this morning in the Circuit Court. Feiner has been once on trial for the act of blood, the jury disagreed, and the case adjourned to the present term of court for another trial. We believe Mr. Arnold is his counsel.

DANGEROUS PLACES.—In several places where new buildings are being erected, the sidewalks are dug away so as to make very dangerous places for persons passing, either by day or night. This is particularly the case in front of the State Bank building on East Water St. corner of Michigan. Prompt attention should be given to his matter.

STRAWBERRIES!—We are indebted to our friend RALPH CHURCH, Route Agent on the Lake Shore Rail Road, for a box of fine ripe Strawberries from Cincinnati.

THEATRE—MISS EMILY THORNE'S BENEFIT.—The performances at the Theatre this evening are for the benefit of Miss EMILIE THORNE, the bright, particular star of Mr. Thorne's Company. To great personal attractions, she adds very decided professional ability; and her bright face, winning smile, and graceful and spirited acting, have won her troops of friends and admirers. She offers, for this evening, an excellent entertainment, and it would be an impeachment of the gallantry and good taste of our city to doubt that she will have an overflowing house.

AN AMENDE.—Mr. LEFFINGWELL, in his card, this morning, makes amends to the public, and to the manager, for his leaving the Theatre between the pieces on Thursday evening last.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.—The favorite steamer Keystone State, the next steamer of the line, leaves here for Collingwood Wednesday morning. L. D. JESSOE, on Huron Street, near Main, is the Agent.

TO THE PUBLIC.

A slight misunderstanding having occurred between Mr. THORNE and myself during the performance on last Thursday night—causing me to leave my duties unattended to—an apology is due the public for any disappointment occasioned by my non-appearance in the second play; and also to Mr. THORNE for the dilemma in which he was placed. Such apology is hereby tendered by the public's obedient servant,

MINOR W. LEFFINGWELL.

VOLUME XI. MILWAUKEE DAILY SENTINEL, MONDAY MORNING, MAY 26, 1856. NEW SERIES.

No God!

BY MRS. LYDIA H. SIGOURNEY.

The following verses were suggested by the words to the 14th Psalm of David, "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God"—

"No God! No God!" The simplest flower
That on the wild is found,
Shrinks as it drinks its cup of dew,
And trembles at the sound:
"No God!" astonished echo cries
From out the heaven hour,
And every wand'ring bird that flies
Reproves the Atheist's lore.

The solemn forest lifts its head
The Almighty to proclaim,
The trickling streamlet in its crystal urn,
Doth leap to grace its name:
How awful is the deep and vengeful sea,
Alone in boundless trace,
The red Vesuvius opens his mouth
To hurl the fathomless back.

The palm tree, with princely crest,
The cocoa's leafy shade;
The bread fruit bending to its load
In yon far island glade—
The whirlwind speaks thine ire, borne by winds,
The roving sparrows feed,
The lion on the desert sands,
Confute the scorner's creed.

"No God!" With indignation filled
The fervent mind is stirred,
And the pale moon turns pale at still
At such an impious word:
And from their burning thrones, the stars
Look down with angry eye,
That that a worm of dust should mock
Eternal majesty.

SIDNEY SMITH ON SWEARING.—Sidney Smith was travelling in a stage coach one day, long before railroads were dreamed of, was terribly annoyed by a young man, who had acquired the polite art of swearing to such an extent, that he could not help interlarding his discourse with it, as though it were a constituent part of the language. As there was a lady present, the language was doubly annoying. After enduring the young man's displays for some time, the "wag, wit and bear," as one of his Cockney admirers called him, asked permission of the company to tell a little anecdote, and thus commenced:—"Once upon a time (boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes) there was a King (boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes) of England who, at a grand ball, (boots, sugars tongs and tinder boxes) picked up the Duchess of (boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes) Shrewsbury's garter (boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes) and said: 'Honi soit qui mal y (boots sugar tongs and tinder boxes) person,' which means in English, 'Evil be to him, who (boots sugar tongs and tinder boxes) evil thinks.' This was the origin of (boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes) the order of the garter."

When Sidney Smith had concluded, the young gentleman said: "A very good story sir,—rather odd—but what the devil has boots, sugar tongs and tinder boxes to do with it?"

"I will tell you my young friend, when you tell me what 'd—n my eyes,' &c., have to do with our conversation. In the mean time, allow me to say, it is my style of swearing."

A little boy friend of ours, a few days ago, while coming down stairs, was cautioned by his mother not to lose his balance. His question which followed was a puzzler: 'Mother, if I should lose my balance, where would it go to?'

OPPOSITE THE 1A CROSSE R. R. DEPOT.

THIS LIBRARY contains nearly 700 volumes by the most popular authors, and new works of merit will be added as they are issued from the press. The pictures EXCEL THE FINEST PAINTING UPON IVORY, and while they equal the works of the Masters in their delicacy and richness of coloring, surpass them in exactness of delineation and PERFECT FIDELITY TO NATURE, expression and nature.

Friends, relatives and lovers may now rejoice in the possession of perfect likenesses, at a price that places them in the reach of all. Our painted Photographs are warranted to be all that is here represented, and we guarantee them to preserve their color without fading, at least as long as paintings on ivory.
